Bruce Linton, Owner / Driver
2007/2008 Season Sponsorship Invitation

BRUCE LINTON IS RUNNING THE IDITAROD TO RAISE AWARENESS & FUNDS FOR DIABETES

Bruce Linton of Morrisville, Vermont is attempting to complete the 1,150 mile Iditarod Dog Sled Race in Alaska in March, 2007. A Type 1 diabetic for 14 years, he is running the race for his own personal dreams, but also to raise money for organizations that support diabetes education, awareness and research. Dedicating several years of his life to get to the starting line of the Iditarod, Bruce wants to show that diabetics do not need to be confined by their disease. A portion of the proceeds will go to a diabetes foundation such as the American Diabetes Association (ADA) & the Diabetes and Wellness Foundation. The remaining proceeds will help support Bruce and his dog team run 1,150 miles from Anchorage to Nome.
